Telegraph Sixty-Second Year

DIXON, ILLINOIS MONDAY JULY 7 1913

OFFICIAL PAPER OF LEE COUNTY BY ACT OF SUPERVISORS

Dixon Daily Telegraph Thirtieth Year No. 159

PROGRAM COMPLETE FOR THE REUNION

MANY GRADUATES OF DIXON LAW COLLEGE TO MEET HERE SOON.

TWO BIG DAYS ARE PLANNED

Permanent Organization Will Be Perfect and Banquet Will Be Held.

The program for the reunion of the graduates of the Northern Illinois College of Law, which will be held here the 30th and 31st of this month, has been completed and it insures a happy time for the many visitors who are expected. There is no doubt the affair is going to be very largely attended, for the responses which have been received indicate that the former students of the institution are enthusiastic in their desire to want to visit again the scene of their studies and that as many of them as possible will be here the two days.

It is planned to hold a meeting at the Elks' home at 3 o'clock the first afternoon, at which time a permanent organization will be formed and plans made to hold a reunion every year. In the evening a banquet will be tendered the visitors at the Elks' home by the local graduates of the organization, and following the banquet the following program will be given:

Toastmaster—Hon. John P. Devine, Address—Dean J. W. Watts, Dixon, Address—Judge Lawrence DeGraff, DesMoines, Ia.

Address—U. S. District Attorney C. J. Morris.

Music—Marquette Orchestra.

Remarks by Former Students.

On the second day of the reunion the attraction will be a trip up the river. The boats will leave the dock at 10 o'clock in the morning and return at 1 p. m.

SPRING VALLEY TEAM FAILED TO SHOW UP

CROWD OF FANS WAITED OVER THIRTY MINUTES FOR THE COAL MINERS.

After going to the trouble of telegraphing Saturday that they would surely be on hand for Sunday's game with the Dixon Stars here, the Spring Valley team evidently got too much entertainment at home, for at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon while an impatient crowd of fans waited for the scheduled game, the announcement was made that the Coal Miners had not started for Dixon. All of which was very interesting and caused a general feeling that Dixon has had enough of Spring Valley now, and that it is to be hoped that nothing more will be heard of the town hereafter.

BOARD WILL LET SEWER CONTRACT TOMORROW

The board of local improvements will meet tomorrow at 2 p. m. to receive proposals on the Monroe avenue and the First street sewers, and to award the contract if satisfactory bids are received.

WHITE SLAVER AT WORK IN DIXON

POLICE LEARN THAT FLASHILY DRESSED WOMAN TRIED GAME HERE.

The local officers yesterday afternoon learned of a "white slaver" being at work in this city, but before they could make any arrests the woman, who was alleged to have been operating in this city, learned that the police were investigating her operations here, and made her escape.

According to the stories which reached the police the woman spent several days here attempting to influence several Dixon girls, who are exceptionally good looking to accompany her to Chicago. The woman was flashily dressed and evidently made her argument to her intended victims attractive, for several of the girls to whom she talked, had practically made up their minds to accompany her to the city.

CELEBRATION WAS FINANCIAL SUCCESS

COMMITTEE HELD FINAL MEETING AND FINDS SUFFICIENT FUNDS.

The committee in charge of the Fourth of July celebration has held a final meeting, at which all the receipts and disbursements were checked up, and it is found that the celebration was a financial success in addition to being the biggest day ever experienced in Dixon. The receipts from the concessions, the ball games and the dances cleaned up the deficiency which the committee faced early in the day.

CHAFFIN WILL SPEAK HERE WED MORNING

FORMER PROHIBITION CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT WILL DELIVER ADDRESS IN DIXON.

Hon. Eugene W. Chaffin, former Prohibition candidate for president of the United States in 1908-1912, will pass through this city on Wednesday, July 9th, on his way from Freeport to Prophetstown, and will speak on the street in Dixon at 10 a. m., Wednesday, July 9.

TWO IMPROVEMENT ORDINANCES FILED

MEASURES PROVIDE FOR SEWER IN NORTH DIXON AND CONCRETE PAVEMENT.

Local improvement ordinances No. 155 and 132 have been filed with City Clerk Blake Grover and will be acted upon at the next meeting of the city council. Ordinance 155 provides for a sewer in Assembly Place, East Chamberlain and East Fellows street, the estimated cost of which is $5,547.96, while 132 is for a concrete pavement in the alley at the rear of the postoffice, the Nachusa house and the Y. M. C. A. The cost of the pavement is estimated at $878.83.

GRASS FIRE EARLY SUNDAY MORNING

The fire department was called to West Everett street at 10:30 yesterday morning to extinguish a grass fire. Chief Coffey, as a result of the direct alarm which was turned in yesterday, again asks that people reporting grass fires specify when giving the alarm that the fire is a grass blaze, thereby saving the firemen and horses much unnecessary work.

COUNCIL MEETING

The city council will meet in regular session this evening, but the meeting promises nothing unusual.

WILL PROBATED.

The will of the late Rev. Henry Stauffenberg of Ashton was filed for probate in the county court today.

NEGRO SHOT I. C. OFFICER SUNDAY

CHAS. EISLEY, FREEPORT COLOR MAN, IS UNDER ARREST.

VICTIM IN CRITICAL CONDITION

Officer Reinhardt, the Wounded Man, Is Well Known in This City.

Freeport, July 7—Special to Telegraph—Frank Reinhardt, assistant special agent for the Illinois Central Railway company, was shot and probably fatally wounded by Charles Easley, a local negro, at 7:10 p. m. Sunday while Reinhardt attempted to arrest Easley for stealing ice and provisions from the company's cars at this place. Easley was arrested at his home at 2 o'clock this morning by Officer Brown of the Freeport Police when he returned to get some clothing preparatory to getting away from the city.

His victim is in a critical condition at a local hospital, the 22 calibre bullet having entered the abdomen, piercing the stomach, the intestines, the liver and several large blood vessels. He is not expected to recover.

Had Threatened Officer.

Easley, who has been suspected of having robbed the cars of the company several times before, was found on the company's right of way Sunday morning by Agent Reinhardt and had been ordered off the tracks. At that time he drew a knife and threatened the officer, and last evening, when he was again ordered off the tracks, he threatened to kill Reinhardt.

After having warned the fellow away Sunday evening Officer Reinhardt secured the assistance of City Policeman Wilke and went to Easley's home to arrest him. As they entered the house, the Central officer in the lead, the negro shot at them with a rifle from an adjoining room, the first bullet taking effect in the officer's body. The negro then made his escape from the rear of the house, but was arrested early this morning.

NEXT GREAT EVENT ROCK RIVER ASSEMBLY

PUBLIC-SPIRITED MEN TO BOOST FOR LOCAL CHAUTAUQUA WITH A VIM.

THE ATTRACTION THAT ADVERTISES DIXON

This Chautauqua Offers More and Better Attractions Than Any in This Section.

Now that the Fourth is over and the day as celebrated here was wonderful success, let the public-spirited men turn their attention to boosting for the next big event—the Rock River Assembly, which opens July 26th and runs until August 10th.

A splendid program is offered this year. Better, perhaps, than has been given the public for some years. The program covers everything that the Chautauqua patrons should ask for. The expense of attending the Assembly is not much when value received is considered. There are several Assemblies round about us but none can offer the facilities for rest, comfort and beautiful grounds as can the Rock River Assembly of Dixon.

A professional man came to Dixon several days ago, and when taken through Assembly park, declared:

"This is the place for my family to spend several weeks. I mean to bring them here this summer. I never knew you people had such a beautiful place."

This is only one of many such declarations concerning Dixon's beautiful chautauqua grounds.

Dixon citizens are patronizing the Assembly beach this summer. Large numbers of people gather at the beach daily, and enjoy the swim.

There is no other Chautauqua association in our immediate community that can offer a bathing beach to its patrons.

The stockholders of the Assembly are striving each year to improve the program, grounds and the facilities for comfort.

Proposed Amendment of Charter.

Notice is hereby given to all stockholders that at the regular meeting of the stockholders of Rock River

Assembly of Lutherans to be held at

Bible Hall on the Assembly grounds on August 5th, 1913, at 10 a. m. the directors will recommend and ask that the charter of said Assembly be amended so that the same will contain power on said Assembly to maintain and conduct annually on the premises of said Assembly a Chautauqua consisting more particularly of lectures, concerts, Bible conferences, round tables, religious services and such other entertainments and exercises as are usual in Chautauimprovement of the community.</

The Candlelighters will meet at the church Friday afternoon. Come prepared to sew.

Entertained Over Fourth

Mrs. Frank Morgan of 915 West Third street entertained Misses Hilda Gerdes, Violet Miller and Blanche Mick of Amboy over the Fourth.

Danced at Country Club

Miss Wilhelmina Seyfarth has just returned home from Peoria where she gave some special dances before the Country club and guests and they were all most enthusiastic in their praise of them. The papers of Peoria speak in the following glowing terms of her artistic and lovely performance in her dances. Miss Seyfarth is the personification of grace.

One paper says—

"Miss Seyfarth's first solo was a Greek dance, "Wind and Wave," for which she wore a softly plaited costume of pale gray silk. In a lavender ballet garlanded with pink roses, Miss Seyfarth danced Chalif's interpretation of "Pizzicato," which in its French interpretation is numbered in Jenee's toe dancing. "Maid of the Mist," which is decidedly of the Gilbert school technique, was danced in a short blue silk costume, and with this number Miss Seyfarth completed her very graceful and delightful part in the program.

Then everybody went into the club house, some to dance and others to watch the fun. Miss Seyfarth, whose talent lies more especially in ball room dancing, was persuaded to give some of the newest dictates from the society centers of the east. "The Castle Walk," which is said to be most fascinating, is the newest combining of glides, whisks, dips and just plain, graceful walking. As for the next dancing season Miss Seyfarth tells us there will be little change. So after her message they came out last night on the dancing floor and tangoed and one-stepped in last winter's fashion, feeling they were quite in style.

The Interurban orchestra, which played the splendid program for the dancing, has been engaged for Saturday night dances during the season. There will be no celebration at the club on July Fourth, giving place to the pageant at Water Works park.

Another paper had the following:

Lovely Dancers Charm

To Mrs. David Lackey, chairman of the social committee of the Country club, and her committee members is due the credit for the delightful success of Founders day as observed last evening on the club house grounds.

More than two hundred members and their friends took dinner on the point south of the house.

We are showing some beautiful new styles in photographs, suitable for commencement pictures.

Guessing at Glasses

Is more dangerous than guessing at most anything else in the world.

If relief from the errors of vision is to come through the wearing of glasses, it is all important that those glasses be adjusted according to the measurements of the most modern appliances.

Choosing glasses by simply trying them on cannot be too strongly condemned.

Absolute accuracy is essential, and absolute accuracy is what we offer you.

UNCLE SI, DIPLOMATIST

GOOD MAN'S METHOD OF DEALING WITH HARD SITUATION.

Unusual Doings in Meeting House Yard
Turned to Financial Account by Elder Who Was Not Superstitious.

"Wall," said Uncle Si, as he took his accustomed place on the pickle barrel, "we had a high-falutin' lawn party up tew the meetin' house at Lapham's Corners last night. There was sure a heap of folk thar, and the way they carried on seemed to me wasn't exactly in place in the meetin' house yard," said Uncle Si, looking plow and thoughtful.

"Tell us about it," said Hiram, helping himself to another cracker from the open barrel near by.

"Wall, it was jest this a-way. In the fust place a party of city folks come down from up the hill—we could see at once that they was goin' to run things to suit themselves. If they hadn't a-bought a lot of peanuts, ice cream and lemonade, we'd have broke up the jamboree right thar and let 'em go home. The fust thing they done was to start a Virginia reelin', which I reckon is an imitation of how a person reckons when he has got full of Virginia corn juice. Us country folks, we gathered around in the corners of the lawn and says nothin'—at least, not so as the city folks could hear. We thought they'd gone far enough with the Virginny trapsing, but we found we was plum mistaken.

"Some female says, says she, 'Let's chase the turkey around this lawn.' Wall, there wasn't any turkey, but there was some of the worst dol's that was ever seen in Lapham's Corners. I bein' the elder, the members of the meetin' house riz up unanimous and told me I'd got to stop them fire-works. After knocking a nearby table, is order to bring silence, I spoke something like this: 'Brethern and sistern, this yer is in the meetin' house yard. Such goin's on as has happened here tonight has disgraced us all, and to make our consciences easy, I shall take all the money we've rize here tonight and raise the insurance on the meetin' house. I ain't superstitious, but I don't believe no building could stand to see what's went on here tonight without either burnin' up or gettin' struck by lightning or havin' coffee spilt on the vestry carpet. I hope you will now all go home and come again to the next lawns party we have and be enthusiastic as ye was at this one.'

"Wall," said Si, "the crowd they went home, and I guess they was ashamed of theirselves."

"Wall," said Lem Beacher, who occupied the only chair in the grocery store, "I never did believe in them excitin' ways to make money for the meetin' house. It's much better to take up collections now and then, get along with the old meetin' house."

To that all the bysitters answered: "You're right, Lem!" and Uncle Si bought his groceries, consisting of a package of tobacco, and went home to do the chores.—Judge.

RIOTS RENEWED; MOBS DEFIAINT

All Trains and Street Cars Suspend Service at Johannesburg.

NO DATE TO END STRIKE

Dissatisfaction Expressed by the Strikers Over Tentative Settlement Terms—Ask King to Depose Gladstone for Calling Troops.

Johannesburg, July 7.—The settlement of the strike among the gold miners in the Rand district, which the government arranged with a committee of strikers, has proved ineffective.

The mobs reassumed late Sunday. All trains and street cars suspended service, the crews refusing to work. No newspapers were able to issue editions. Additional troops guarded the Rand club, the scene of serious encounters Saturday. A great mob assembled there, hooting and jeering the troops. Up to midnight there had been no serious trouble, but armed police everywhere were guarding property.

Ask Gladstone Recall.

The recall of the governor general of the Union of South Africa, Viscount Gladstone, is demanded by the Federated Trades Unions. At a meeting of the federation at Pretoria attended by 1,200 delegates it was unanimously resolved to petition the imperial government to take this action because the governor general employed troops to suppress the strike.

The opinion is very general that the government has made serious blunders throughout the present trying situation. When Gen. Louis Botha, the ex-premier of the Union of South Africa, and General Smuts, minister of the interior, mines and defense, arrived at Johannesburg they were amazed at the strikers' organization and the desperate spirit of the leaders.

Unions Flushed With Success.

The federated unions are flushed with success and confident that they are complete masters of the situation. The trade unionists are ready to obey any order given them. The leaders have already commanded the newspapers to cease publication until further notice. They count on the government's fear of the natives, 200,000 of whom are locked in the compounds at the mines.

A great crowd of strikers wearing red badges surrounded the Carlton hotel while the terms of settlement were being arranged. When the strike leaders announced from the balcony that a settlement had been agreed to they were greeted to with shouts of "What about the dead?" "You've been bought."

Outbreak Worst Since 1899.

Except at the time of the Jameson raid in 1896 and the outbreak of the war in 1899 this city has not experienced such a day of terror as Saturday. The mobs in the business section caused less fear than desperados who were threatening to dynamite the homes of the wealthy. All places of business were closed and guarded by troops, while bands of citizens armed with rifles patroled the residential quarter.

The rioting began when strikers forced their way into the Rand club, whose members are mine owners. They demolished everything on the ground floor. Three times dragoons scattered the mob, but it quickly reformed. The troops fired a volley over the heads of the rioters and then two volleys directly into their ranks. The rioters fled, leaving behind a large number of killed and wounded.

FOLLOWED INSTRUCTIONS.

"President Mellen of the New Haven system allows neither wrecks nor investigations to dampen his humor."

The speaker was a Boston railroader. He continued:

"I made a pretty bad mistake last week but President Mellen, amid all his business worries, took my fault good naturally. He just said I reminded him of a new brakeman on the Sunapee line."

"This brakeman, the first day out, had his duties explained by the conductor."

"You see," the conductor said, "when I call a station's name—Concord, or Boston or what not—you must call the same at your end. Understand?"

"Sure," said the brakeman. "Sure Mike, I understand."

"So they started off, and the first stop was Sunapee."

"Sunapee!" roared the conductor, as the train slowed down.

"An instant later, poking his head in at the rear door of the car the brakeman roared:

"Same at this end!"

SLAIN AIDING CHIEF

Policeman and Alleged Bootlegger Killed in Battle.

Fight Follows Attempt to Stop Traffic at Champaign, Ill.—Negroes Frightened and Flee.

Champaign, Ill., July 7.—In attempting to aid his chief in arresting an alleged bootlegger, Officer Tim Dodsworth was shot to death and Ray Williams, suspected of bootlegging, was killed here.

Dodsworth met the fire of Williams and died almost instantly. Williams expired from shots fired by Chief Keller, who used his weapon when both arms were shattered by shot. Keller is in the hospital, but will recover.

Oliver Harding, who fled with a wounded leg, is sought. The killing of Dodsworth was the climax of the crusade of Mayor Dobbins against the illegal sale of liquor. Feeling runs high among crowds of citizens gathered in the streets. Many negroes fled the city on first reports that Dodsworth had been killed by a negro.

The duel occurred when the two officers came to the house rented by Williams. Chief Keller sent Dodsworth to watch the back door, while he entered at the front. A Mrs. Harding and her son Oliver were on the first floor. Keller ascended the stairs, encountering Williams at the top.

Williams, apparently ready for the visit, fired at the officer. Two or the bullets took effect and the suspect sought to club Keller and hurl him downstairs. A hand-to-hand struggle ensued. Chief Keller fired three shots at Williams, but before the suspect fell he was able to fire at Dodsworth, who ran up the stairs, revolver in hand. Dodsworth dropped with three bullets in his chest.

FOLLOWED INSTRUCTIONS.

"President Mellen of the New Haven system allows neither wrecks nor investigations to dampen his humor."

The speaker was a Boston railroader. He continued:

"I made a pretty bad mistake last week but President Mellen, amid all his business worries, took my fault good naturally. He just said I reminded him of a new brakeman on the Sunapee line."

"This brakeman, the first day out, had his duties explained by the conductor."

"You see," the conductor said, "when I call a station's name—Concord, or Boston or what not—you must call the same at your end. Understand?"

"Sure," said the brakeman. "Sure Mike, I understand."

"So they started off, and the first stop was Sunapee."

"Sunapee!" roared the conductor, as the train slowed down.

"An instant later, poking his head in at the rear door of the car the brakeman roared:

"Same at this end!"

ILLINOIS WOMEN VOTE

THOUSANDS FALL IN BALKAN WAR

One-Third of Ballots Cast by Them.

Elections in Three Towns Were for Local Interests Only—Officials Elected at One Place.

Chicago, July 7.—Illinois women made their first appearance as voters and cast one-third of the ballots at three towns.

In three towns where elections were held—Waukegan, North Chicago and Libertyville—the proportion of women voting in each town was about the same. In all 422 votes were cast in the three elections and of these the women polled 125.

In none of the three towns in which the elections were held was there anything of more than local interest. Only in Waukegan did the women actually vote for officials. There eight of them had an opportunity to express a preference for candidates for president and six trustees of the village board.

In North Chicago and Libertyville, the women only voted upon bond issues.

In no instance did the entrance of women into the political field change the result of the election.

At Libertyville there was some difficulty with "willing voters." Young women between the ages of eighteen and twenty-one appeared at the polls, believing that they could vote when they became of age, and were disappointed when their votes were challenged and they were told they could not cast a ballot until they were twenty-one.

Married women cast the majority of the votes for their sex.

WOMEN IN BIG ARSON PLOT

Detectives Discover Thousands of Tubes Containing Phosphorus.

London, July 7.—Scotland Yard detectives discovered a gigantic arson plot in which the militant suffragettes planned to simultaneously set a large number of fires throughout various districts of London. Vast quantities of combustibles have been stored at different points throughout the city, and the plot was so well arranged that tremendous damage would have been the inevitable result.

The militiamen planned to set forth from different points at a given hour on a date, which has not yet been learned definitely. The plan was to start numerous fires in the main business section of London, in the West End district, in several of the government buildings and in what is known as the "fire zone," a very congested area.

The police have discovered thousands of tubes of phosphorus, quantities of fire-lighters and large stores of chemicals, all of which were to be used in the arson campaign.

MESSAGE SENT 3,900 MILES

American Experts Praise Goldschmidt Wireless Method.

Washington, July 7.—Government officials are greatly interested in the reported achievement of Doctor Goldschmidt, a German inventor of wireless apparatus, in sending messages between Neustadt, near Hanover, Germany, and Tuckerton, N. J., 3,900 miles.

Dr. Frederick Colster, in charge of wireless investigations for the United States bureau of standards, expresses the opinion that the Goldschmidt and similar methods of sending will be the methods of the future. High frequency transmission, he says, which is the essential principle of the Goldschmidt machine, gives persistent unbroken waves which do not die down, as do those in the methods now in use.

At the receiving end interference can be cut out, he added, so that others sending or receiving do not cause any disturbance.

TWO VESSELS IN COLLISION

Steamer and Schooner Crash Off Barnegat, N. J., During Fog.

New York, July 7.—The steamship Verdi of the Lampert & Holt line, arrived from South American ports badly damaged as a result of a collision in a dense fog off Barnegat, N. J., with the schooner Margaret Haskell, bound for Baltimore. The Haskell was unable to proceed, and is being towed to this port.

The Verdi carried 113 passengers and a crew of seventy. Most of the passengers were on deck trying to sight land when the collision occurred. A panic followed.

THOUSANDS FALL IN BALKAN WAR

Week of Fighting Between Former Allies Brings Losses Above 30,000.

REPORTS FAVOR THE BULGARS

Bloodiest Conflict of All Revealed in Reports From Macedonia—Ministers Are Recalled as Charges of Atrocities Are Made.

London, July 7.—After ten days of deadly fighting the number of killed and disabled in the Balkan struggle is estimated between 30,000 and 40,000. This estimate is said to be conservative.

The Servians have lost more men than in the whole previous campaign, and semi-official statements issued at Belgrade have the appearance of an intention to prepare the public for news of a disaster.

Belgrade dispatch, describing the five days' operations between Vardar and Krivolak, says that after holding a greatly superior force in check the Servians were obliged to retire. Thus Krivolak fell into the hands of the Bulgarians.

Losses Are Terrible.

Another semi-official communication says the Servians lost 15,000 killed and wounded and the Bulgarians 20,000.

There is heavy fighting also between the Servians and Bulgarians to the south of Istip and in the neighborhood of Kotchana. About 200,000 men are engaged and the losses on both sides are engaged to be terrible.

Desperate fighting, with fluctuating fortunes, is proceeding along the Vardar and Bregalnitza rivers, which seems to be in favor of the Bulgarians.

Bulgars Hold Greeks.

Bulgaria's strategy appears to be to hold the Greeks in check probably with comparatively small forces, while she deals with Servia. This assumption, if correct, would explain the victorious advance of the Greek army.

Unconfirmed reports credit the Bulgarians with victories near Kogril, giving them the key to Uskup, and with an outflanking movement from the south of Tahynos lake, which would cut off the Greek retreat.

Servian troops have victoriously entered Kotchana.

Servia Claims Victory.

A semi-official statement from Belgrade says the Servians were taken by surprise, but succeeded in repelling the Bulgarian advance. Little by little the Servian army assumed the offensive, and the position now is that the Servians have forced the Bulgarian right wing back over the River Bregalnitza, whither they retreated in disorder.

Salonika dispatches continue to report Greek victories. The Greeks are said to have captured sixteen guns at Doiran. Evidence of desperate fighting is found in the arrival of 8,000 wounded at Salonika.

The Greeks have made wholesale charges against the Bulgarians of burning and pillaging all the villages they abandon and of committing murders, mutilations and other horrors. More than 4,000 refugees are concentrated at Nigrita and adjacent villages.

The Bulgarian ministers at Belgrade and Cettinje have been recalled and the Bulgarian interests have been confided to Russia. The Sobranje has been convoked for Tuesday.

At the receiving end interference can be cut out, he added, so that others sending or receiving do not cause any disturbance.

SLAYER TO ITALY SOON

Porter Charlton Will Sail This Week to Stand Trial.

Jersey City, N. J., July 7.—Porter Charlton will start for Italy during this week to answer for the murder of his wife, Mrs. Mary Scott Castle Charlton, according to the present plan of the authorities here.

Mrs. Charlton was slain in 1910 while she and Charlton were on a honeymoon trip. Her body was placed in a trunk and thrown into Lake Como, Italy.

Charlton fled to this country, where he was arrested upon stepping ashore at Hoboken. He confessed and began his unsuccessful three years' flight against extradition.

A panic followed.

Smoke Abatement in Glasgow.

The gas and electricity departments of a corporation in Glasgow, Scotland, are competing keenly in the exhibition of appliances for the reduction of smoke from furnaces and kitchen ranges. The electricity department has a complete electrically fitted restaurant, where all the cooking, the kitchen work, the cleaning, the heating and the lighting are effected by electric current. The gas department has a "gas equipped house," in which all the cooking and heating is done by gas fires, as well as many of the other operations in connection with housekeeping, and in which all the lighting is obtained from incandescent gas burners of different types. The corporation is encouraging the reduction of smoke, not only by holding these periodical exhibitions, but also by lending gas cookers free to all the citizens. It has loaned 37,000 of these cookers since March 1. It is also supplying gas fires and the demand for these has been so great that it cannot be met without considerable delay.

Clear Case of Madness.

Louis Trosky of Ohio is a politician of considerable influence in his state. One evening, when he was in Washington, he was invited to dine at the home of John R. McLean, who dabbles in Ohio politics and costly tapestries. Every time Mr. McLean hears of a pesty sale in Europe he peels off section of his bank roll, hands it to a agent, and tells him to blow it in the hangings.

Trosky's appetite was very poor that night. Apparently he was in real physical pain or felt the gnawing clutch of a secret sorrow. When he got back to Ohio he made this aforesome announcement:

"I've always heard that John R. McLean was a wise old guy. It's a mistake. That old fellow is as crazy as loon. He took me in to dinner in a room where there was absolutely nothing on the floor, and all the carpets were hanging on the wall."—Popular Magazine.

Protection for Armenians.

In a news letter from Jerusalem, printed in The Living Church (Milwaukee), information is given of additional massacres of Armenians in Kurdistan last summer which have hardly been reported in this country. In this connection The Living Church says editorially: "One feels that in the initial settlement of questions between the Turk and Christendom, this matter of protection to Armenians ought to be included. True, the Balkan states themselves can hardly claim to extend their protectorate over these persecuted Asiatic Christians. They have no common bonds of race or even of communion with Armenians as they have between themselves and Macedonians and Albanians. Here is one related thing that the powers can yet do, before the Turk receives his clean bill of health. They are bound by their treaties to guarantee safety to Armenians, and these afflicted people have no cousins who can arise and do them what the Balkan states have done for Christians in European Turkey."

Death for Tuberculosis Bacilli.

Dr. Flemming, a prominent medical authority, at a meeting of the Berlin Aeronautical association, lectured on the beneficial effects of high altitudes on tuberculosis. He pointed out that 15 minutes' exposure to the sun's rays during an airship flight at high altitude meant certain death to the tuberculosis bacilli.

IMPROVING OF VIRGINIA

BY KATE FORSTER.

"Pink messaline with panner of rose point and a wee ruffle of the fabric. Inexpressibly sweet!" Kitty was an exclamation point of admiration.

Virginia regarded her younger sister with the expression of a yearning missionary. "Kitty, I wish you'd devote less thought to mere externals," she said.

Undisturbed, Kitty surveyed her sister, immaculate in unruffled, unrumpled, tailored linen. "Of course, Virginia, you're a distinguished settlement angel and all that, but if you don't think more about clothes you'll gradually drop off even the semi-feminine touches and emerge as Dr. Mary Walker," she declared, severely.

"And sis really is a good looker," put in Tom.

Virginia, patient disapproval personified, absent-mindedly salted her breakfast food instead of her egg. "A woman with a sense of her responsibilities," she murmured, "realizes that life is too short to waste on such a trivial consideration."

Tom said "Excuse me!" and fled.

"Or the pursuit of some equally serious and worthy purpose should occupy her time and thoughts to the exclusion of frivolous, light-headed."

Kitty rose. "Sorry, Jinny. I'd love to listen. Makes me feel like a little demon, but I'm going to don my ravishing pink batiste and loll over to Dorothy's. Her cousin, fresh from Harvard, arrived yesterday, and I think I'll wake up Bob to the treasure he's won if I chain the welcome stranger to my chariot wheels, first chance."

Virginia was truly shocked. "Kitty! You have so far forgotten the modesty becoming to a young woman newly engaged as to race off in actual pursuit of another young man!"

Kitty flushed, bit a sharp retort in two and came over to rub her hand lovingly over Virginia's glossy curls, brushed into unwilling smoothness. "I can't do Dot's cousin a bit of harm," she said, meekly, "because he isn't engaged. I wish you'd get through saying humanity, Jinny, so you could have a good time with me. I've just got six more months at home now."

Virginia slipped an arm around her sister. "I only hope I can lead you to a true appreciation of woman's life and work during those six months, Kitty. Why not begin by coming to the club with me this morning? I have a paper, 'The Influence of Women in Civic Life.'

Kitty was squinting critically. "I wish I could persuade you to cut off those ugly high collars in this hot weather. You've the prettiest throat of any one I know, and you bury it under all that fluffy linens. Collarless blouses are so fashionable, too."

Whizzing along in the Maynards' touring car that afternoon, Kitty and Dot's cousin from Harvard were discussing brunettes versus blondes.

"By Jove!" he said enthusiastically. "I saw a splendid brunette on your street this morning. Raving beauty, Italian eyes. Serious as a saint. Tall. Stately. I'm sure she never giggled in her life."

Kitty wiggled excitedly. "Awfully plain clothes?"

He stammered. "Um'er. Rather reminded me of a nurse's costume. Dot's promised me an early introduction, but that's as much as I can get out of her. Do you know her?"

Kitty laughed appreciatively. "She's my sister, and a practical humanitarian."

"You don't say!" His face fell. "What'll I have to go in for to impress her? She thinks I'm frightfully rude. I forgot my manners completely and stared at her."

"Dot's going to bring you to dinner tomorrow night," said Kitty, soothingly. "You'd better read up on social settlements."

The next afternoon Kitty was appling powder over cold cream in anticipation of a round of tennis when Virginia appeared at her door, a blouse in one hand, a long pink ribbon and a scrap of lace in the other. Her eyes were perplexed and her face was flushed.

"Kitty, you know so much about fashion, will you advise me? Do you think some lace at the throat would add a pleasing feminine touch to this blouse? And is this pink too bright for a belt?"

Virginia handed it to her with a grateful look. "I wish to be a credit to the club this afternoon because I've been delegated to explain our settlement system to your friend, Dorothy's cousin, Mr. Rogers. His aunt introduced him this morning after the kindergarten class. She has told me in confidence that he has shown remarkable interest in settlement work."

Kitty choked and coughed hurriedly. "Look at yourself in the glass, sis," she said.

Virginia gasped. "You've improved me wonderfully, Kitty. Perhaps I ought to pay more attention to clothes."
